FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

XPORTECHS selected by Coale, Pripstein & Associates, P.A. for new network design, configuration and XperCARE Managed IT Services.

Ellicott City, Maryland – January, 2009 – XPORTECHS, a leading Network Engineering and Managed IT Services Solutions Partner, announced that it has been selected by Coale, Pripstein and Associates, P.A. to implement and install a new server and network infrastructure. The Coale/Pripstein firm has been committed to serving their clients since 1991 and has experienced great success. This solution proposed by XPORTECHS gives Coale/Pripstein the “Peace of Mind” they needed before entering their peak accounting season and provides capability to grow their data storage requirements while providing redundancy and security.

According to Edmund “Skip” Coale of Coale/Pripstein, “The pre-planning and timing of this project was critical. We could not afford to have significant down-time during our normal work schedule. In addition, we needed to make sure our systems were reliable and that we had a good IT Support Team in place for our “peak” accounting season. XPORTECHS launched an after-hours effort that was both efficient and accurate so that our system was operational each morning. From the very beginning, they have been nothing but professional, resourceful and very cooperative. Their expertise, effort, and experience helped make this project a great success.”

The implementation of a new server and the reconfiguration of the entire network were completed the first night. The second day allowed XPORTECHS to complete the migration of the data from the old servers to the new server and work on end-user PC issues, cell phone ActiveSync configurations, and printing. Over the weekend, XPORTECHS completed the project with the migration of applications and large databases without incident.

“XPORTECHS is very excited about the relationship with Coale/Pripstein. Our expertise, helpdesk, and XperCARE Managed Services enable us to access a situation quickly and provide rapid response time to meet the individual needs of our clients. Our ability to swiftly adapt to resource requirements, scheduling and availability of products allowed us to perform without hesitation,” said Michael Mellott, President at XPORTECHS.
